Joyson Safety Systems Names JinHui (Philip) Shan Acting CEO

Auburn Hills, Mich., November 1, 2023 – Joyson Safety Systems (JSS), a leading global supplier of mobility safety components and systems, today announced JinHui (Philip) Shan has been named Acting CEO of the company, taking over the top leadership position from Tao Liu who has decided to retire from JSS.

“As the global automotive industry continues to evolve to accommodate and overcome the challenges presented, Joyson Safety Systems is working diligently on building a solid corporate foundation that is poised for future success, and we believe Mr. Shan will help us achieve this vision,” said Jeff Wang, Chairman of the Board of Directors, Joyson Safety Systems. “Given his depth of industry and company knowledge and experience, we are excited and optimistic about Mr. Shan’s transition into the role of Acting CEO.”

Shan has been with JSS since the launch of the company in April 2018 holding various positions throughout the Asian market, most recently President of the Asia region, and serving as an integral leader in expanding and solidifying business in the region. In addition to his experience at JSS, Shan brings nearly 30 years of general management and technical leadership experience from several Asia-based automotive electronics and equipment manufacturers.

Shan will continue to be based in Shanghai but will spend a significant portion of his time at the company's global headquarters in Auburn Hills, Michigan.
